Figure 1. Self-reported physical functioning (panels a and b) and relationship satisfaction (panels c and d) as function of sex, time, and study conditions. Panels a and c illustrate the effect of study condition and time for wives. Panels b and d illustrate the effects of time and study condition for husbands. Means shown are unadjusted marginal means. Error bars correspond to standard error of mean estimates.